

General - Universities

Related Links:

Accident Research Unit Nottingham Uni based organisation carrying out an In-depth study of Young Novice Drivers

Birmingham Automotive Safety Centre Birmingham Uni (incorporates the Birmingham Accident Research Centre) has an international reputation in the field of road accident research.

British Official Publications Current Awareness Service Contains a searchable index of a tremendous amount of UK Parliamentary or Departmental publications - Run by Southampton University

Cambridge University Transport Research Group Details of the Road Safety projects they are currently investigating.

Centre for Transport Studies Central London Uni - They provide a series of Research Seminars as well as an MSc course in Transport

Cranfield Impact Centre Linked to Cranfield Uni, they claim to be a world leader in vehicle crashworthiness and occupant safety analysis and design.

Driving Simulator Leeds Uni - used for research into transport safety, telematics (whatever that is!) and driver behaviour.

Institute for Transport Studies Leeds Uni - details on the Courses and facilities they offer

Road Traffic Research Centre Middlesex Uni - details on the Courses and facilities they offer

Sleep Research Centre The leading centre for research on sleep in the UK, with details of the effects of sleep on drivers and some tips on how to recognise and deal with the problem.

Sunderland University Current research stems both from expertise in human factors and automotive ergonomics together with advanced manufacturing and maintenance practices.

Transport and Logistics Research Unit Huddersfield - A unit that will focus on developing existing research projects in transport safety and risk management and sustainable transport and logistics amongst other areas of transport.

Transport Research Institute Napier Uni (Edinburgh) - Their aim is to develop in Scotland a research institute renowned throughout Europe and the world for the quality and breadth of its work in transport and related issues.

Transport Studies Group University of Westminster - They claim to have established a prominent reputation for carrying out a wide range of academic and applied research covering most of the main transport sectors.

University Vehicle Safety Research Group Loughborough Uni - Some interesting pages on Primary and Secondary safety in design of cars

York Network Control Group York Uni - responds to the need to design and assess new ways of reducing urban traffic congestion and improving the urban environment.

Institute of Advanced Motorists

© 2008 IAM

Charity No. 249002

Built on OneStopCMS